

YES, PLEASE!

Can Cadbury's Crème Eggs get any more delicious? If you put them into brownies, then abso-flipping-lutely. Fiona from sincerelyfiona.com has a failsafe recipe on her blog, just type in 'Crème Egg brownies' into the search bar and you're away.

GET SET

Making your own eggs is a cheap and fun alternative to store-bought, but before you do, turn to p71 for Eric Lanlard's handy tips. Mould, £6, marksandspencer.com

BAKERS' BOUTIQUE

Get cracking in the kitchen with these eggcellent ideas

Transfer time

Feeling controversial? Buck the 3D egg trend and make flat ones instead, then adorn them with fun (and edible) Easter transfers. £3.95 for two sheets, chocolatetradingco.com

On the hunt

Make this year's egg hunt an event to remember with delightful signs (£11.95), which come complete with ground pegs, and coordinating party bags (£10.50). littlebabycompany.com

TASTY TREAT

Your eggs needn't be plain, especially when Amelia Rope has such delicious flavours on offer, such as this trio: dark raspberry, toasted coconut flakes and sea salt and pale rose. Yum. £16.81, ameliarope.com

STICK WITH IT

Adding little sugar flowers or motifs will give your eggs a lovely handmade touch; just glue on with melted chocolate.
